OWNER'S MANUAL ADDENDUM

The Owner's Manual contained in this owner's packet has been updated. The Error messages described in the Owner's Manual have been changed, see Error Messages below for more information.

Error Messages

The manufacturer of the Solana™ control panel has made some modification to the control program since the publication of the Owner's Manual. The Owner's Manual describes four error messages "FLO", "FLC", "HL", "Prr" on page 16, 31, and 33.

The "FLO", "FLC" and "HL" have been replaced with 3 flashing dots on the control panel display. The "Prr" has been eliminated.

If the 3 flashing dots appear on your control panel display do the following:

- Clean filter or add water if necessary.
- Shut power off and power the spa up again to reset the system
- Contact your dealer for a service call if dots are still displayed after power up.

If the temperature flashes on the display, the power has been disconnected from the spa and the flashing display indicates the default settings were restored when power was connected.

- Push a control panel button to stop the flashing.

IMPORTANT: If the water temperature is significantly different than the temperature value shown on the keypad display, contact your authorized Solana Dealer.
